

COVID-19 WORK SAFE

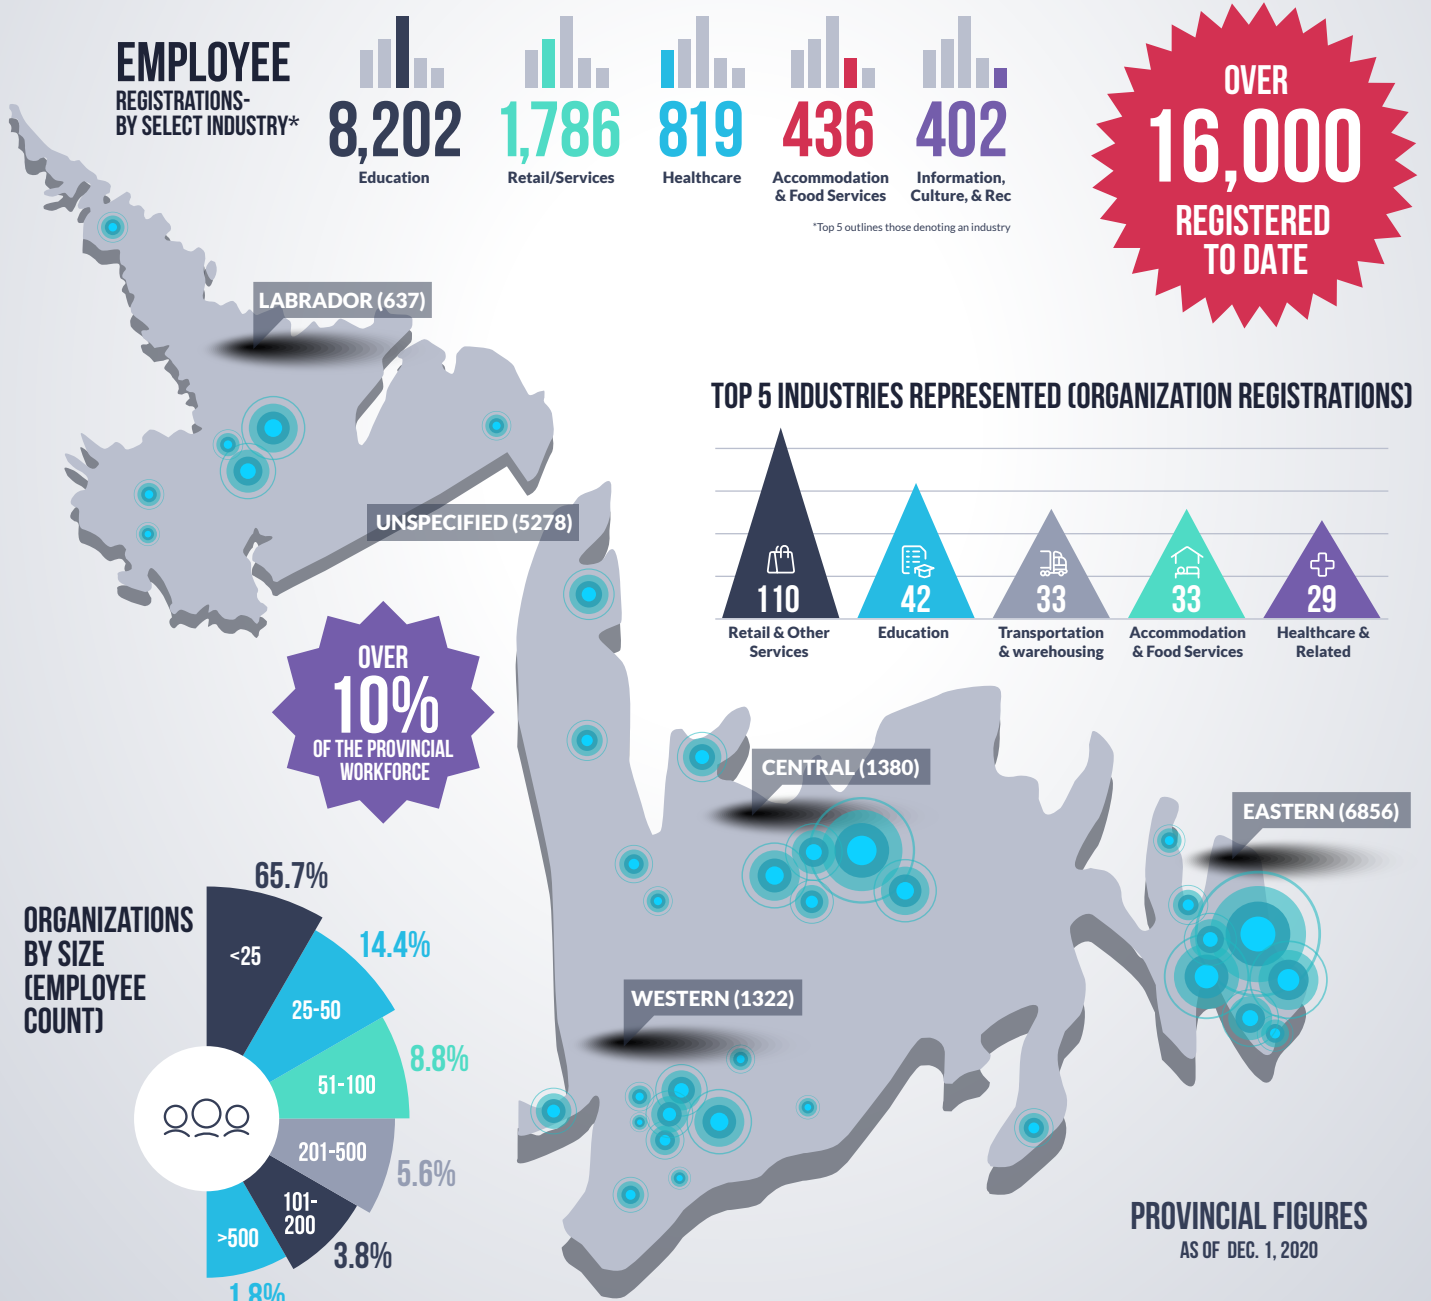

A Valuable Employer and Community Safety Augment

Bluedrop Learning Network's interactive online COVID-19 Work Safe Course was developed under the guidance of several noted national experts, including Canada's former Deputy Chief Public Health Officer, Dr. David Mowat. The training was made available in Newfoundland and Labrador in July 2020 following a formal announcement and approval of the Chief Medical Officer of Health.

A PROVINCIAL CASE STUDY

The COVID-19 Work Safe Course has had strong adoption across industry verticals and organization types in Newfoundland and Labrador, with over 1 in 10 workers in the Province having already completed the training. The rapid deployment of the course was made possible through the use of Bluedrop's SkillsPass™ SaaS training platform that supports broad-based delivery and access to critical training that improves workforce skills.

ACCESSIBLE. PRACTICAL. PROVEN TRAINING.

The COVID-19 Work Safe Course helps drive positive workplace safety knowledge increases, as validated through participant research findings, and can be deployed, tracked, and reported-on with ease via the SkillsPass™ platform. It has since been adopted by Provincial agencies and industry groups in Nova Scotia, Ontario, Manitoba, and Saskatchewan.

For more information, visit skillspass.com, or contact us at adoption@skillspass.com

